

synchronize with the great offensive against the British. Great optimism again prevails in the ranks of the Germans in Belgium, who believe the new mode of attack, ultimately will prove successful. The Germans are moving heavy artillery usually near their advanced line in order to obtain the greatest possible range on the British positions. The force on the west bank of the Yser has been strongly reinforced. The Germans are trying to build a third bridge near

Allied Seaplanes Direct Deadly Bombardment Of the Dardanelles

ATHENS, May 6.—Advised from Tenedos say that the allied fleet is continuing its bombardment of the straits, the fire being again directed by seaplanes. The allies are declared to occupy interior peninsula positions of strategic importance. The Turks are constantly returning to the attack and are being beaten back with heavy loss. In one engagement at Camp Krithia on Tuesday they left 1,800 dead in front of the British position. Their marked batteries have cost the allies heavily as the Turkish gunners have the exact range of all the positions held by them. The bombardment of Smyrna at long range continues. Prisoners confirm the rumor that the re from the ships has annihilated an entire Turkish regiment.

Allies Hold Two Points On Gallipoli Peninsula Only, Says Turk Report

CONSTANTINOPLE (via Berlin and wireless to London), May 6.—Official denial was made today of the claims of the British that they are holding the main positions on the Gallipoli peninsula. The war office says: "The alleged occupation of the Gallipoli peninsula at Jutlandia is untrue. We control the entire peninsula, the enemy holding only two coast points at Arburhan and Sedd-el-Bahr under the protection of the shell fire of his ships. He is, however, unable to advance. The Anatolic shore has been entirely cleared of the enemy."

Russ Victory Reported In Transcaucasian Fight

TIFLIS, Transcaucasia, May 6.—The pursuit of the defeated Turkish army under command of Khalil Bey, in the Khori-Dilman region of the Caucasus, is being continued, according to trustworthy advices reaching Tiflis. This battle, which has resulted in heavy losses for the Turks, began April 28 at Hantabta, near Urumian. Three hundred refugees from Dilman have arrived at Jutlandia, over the border in Russia, and 1,200 more are on their way. Xerxes, the Bishop of Tabriz, Persia, describes the situation at Tiflis as desperate. Eight hundred Turks and a large number of Kurds are active there, destroying Armenian villages. The Armenians, according to the bishop, are still hoping for American and Italian diplomatic interference. At Van, the Armenians have been standing off the Turks and the Kurds for a week. Four Turkish regiments, with artillery, are advancing against these Armenians, from Erzingan. They are threatened also by gendarmes from the Persian border. The existing state of terror has prevented the planting of crops and a famine is impending. The city of Erzerum, in Turkish Armenia, has today 200 cases of typhus fever.

Order for Women Solely. An "order" of honor solely for women will be one of the new diplomatic decorations soon for the gift of the Sultanate of Egypt, says a well informed Arabic newspaper of Cairo. It will be called the Kamel Order (after Hussein Kamel the Sultan). Another of the new orders is to be that of agriculture. It will be given to persons performing valuable services for the farmers.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp, and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be shiny, lustrous, glossy, silky, and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work—Advt.

Christian Chinese Here Ask for Americans' Aid

Letter Sent to President, Secretary of State, and Leading Church Bodies of United States Declares "A Dark Hour Has Come Upon China."

In spite of official reticence and a constant effort to put the soft pedal on the situation, it has become impossible longer to disguise the fact that the cloud of war has arisen in the far East, and that by reason of Japanese aggression hostilities are threatened between China and Japan. Christian Chinese in America realize this so keenly that only today comes an appeal from them to Christians here. Taking advantage of the preoccupation of the European nations in their own troubles, Japan is pressing her demands on China to the point of an ultimatum. Japan appears to be rapidly making warlike preparations and to be mobilizing warships. That the Japanese, if they strike, will strike quickly and hard, and will overwhelm Chinese opposition is not doubted here by military experts cognizant of the disparity of the military strength of the two nations. It is impossible to obtain from American officials here any detailed statement as to the inwardness of the negotiations between Japan and China or regarding the communications from this government.

Government Informed. It was asserted, however, on good authority today that this government had been advised from Tokyo for some days of the nature of the Japanese demands in reply to inquiries from here. From the beginning, there has been an effort in Washington to veil the situation and to minimize its importance. This effort, however, has been largely nullified through the manifestations of alarm on the part of the Chinese and through the appeals the Chinese people, in one way and another, are making for the preservation of their governmental integrity. Moreover, the aggressive tone of the Japanese as reflected in dispatches from Tokyo and the fact that Chinese warships are said to be off the Chinese coast make it clear the situation is perilous.

Appeal From Chinese. An appeal from Chinese Christians in America to other Christians in this country is being circulated. It is being sent out by P. T. Lau, of the University of Pennsylvania, and is signed by a number of prominent Chinese Christians in the United States, including Hui Kai, pastor of Chinese Presbyterian Church in Washington, S. K. Wong, of Wah Tai Company, New York, and various others. The letter has been sent to leading religious bodies, church papers, to the President and to Secretary Bryan, according to a letter from Mr. Lau. It declares a "dark hour has come upon China," that her independence is threatened, and it appeals to the Christian churches of America for help for the Chinese nation. The appeal follows: "The appeal follows: A dark hour has come upon China. Our very independence as a nation is threatened. Also the future of America's religious and commercial interests in our nation is imperiled. No better evidence is needed of the gravity of the present hour than the extraordinary fact that eminent American missionaries in China, representing the leading denominations, have cabled a long message to the Government at Washington, appealing to America to succor China straightway. The mission body has also sent Bishop Bashford, of the Methodist Church, an appeal to this country, to appeal for the moral help of the United States in China's dire emergency. Our fellow Chinese Christians in our homeland have also sent a special appeal to the Christian President of our country, and to the Christian people in America. Now we, Chinese students and business men resident in the United States, communicant members of Christian churches of various names, knowing the depth and sincerity of Christian America's interest in our native land, cry out to the brotherhood for succor for our beloved China. Delivered Christian Koreans. It was the aroused Christians of America who recently delivered our fellow disciples in Korea from prison, torture and probable death at the hands of the Japanese. You can do as much for imperiled China, of you will but again lift aloft the day's white standard of Christian justice and brotherhood, for nations as for men. This is America's opportunity to play the Good Samaritan to China, which is being robbed and beaten on the world's highway. The case is clear and simple, although we invite you to corroborate our statement of it by independent investigation. Japan drove the Germans out of Tsingtau, after solemnly promising civilization, through the lips of her highest ministers, that she would return to China the land peacefully and neutrally. She ruthlessly invaded our neutral territory, outside the sphere claimed by Germany, and grossly abused our people and property. Then, while the attention of the great powers was focused on the war in Europe, she made a series of twenty-one amazing and well-nigh incredible demands upon our government. Acceptance of these would not only destroy China's sovereignty and integrity, but also the guaranteed rights of other nations. Beyond Argument. Surely it is beyond argument that if Japan had earned the right to make demands—though why upon China, a neutral and non-combatant nation?—these should be made at the close of the war, when the conditions of peace are being settled. Is Japan not willing to abide by the fairness of her allies, and of world opinion? Alas, Japan's demands could not survive for an hour in the clear light of an international conference. They are a deed of darkness, dependent wholly for their success upon the fact that other nations are engrossed in the European war, and unable to give serious attention to China. If under cover of the world turmoil, Japan can overthrow Chinese rights, she will have perpetrated a wrong that will set back peace and progress in the Far East for many generations. Now there is one power which the Japanese government fears. This is shown by the lengths to which she has gone to propagate it. That power is public opinion in the United States. And that opinion is dominated by Christian ideals. Turn To Americans. So in our extremity we turn to you, fellow Christians in our sister republic. We ask you to think and pray and speak and write about China's dire peril. Discuss the facts in your missionary meetings, in your Bible classes, and perhaps even in the pulpit. Make them a subject of conversation in your homes. Inquire about them of the Chinese whom you may know, or of the Chinese missionaries, or of the public men whom you may be able to reach. For we are assured that if once our burden may be transferred to the generous, chivalrous, and fearless heart of Christian America a way will be found to deliver China from the pit that has been dug for her. Brethren, pray for us, that in this trying time our faith may fall not, and that we may prove true Christians and true patriots and true friends of all mankind. With gratitude for all that we owe to our Christian teachers from America we subscribe ourselves, in behalf of our fellow Chinese Christians in the United States. Yours fraternally, HUI KAI, pastor of Chinese Presbyterian Church in New York. W. K. CHUNG, Dean of Canton Christian College. S. K. WONG, Wah Tai Company, New York. K. P. JAPAN MASSES ARMY AS WAR CRAFT MOVE but more the language employed in rejecting them than the incensed emperor and his advisers. They characterize the tone of the latest Chinese note as insulting and this has made concessions impossible.

Peking Fears Japan Is About to Strike Without Any Warning

PEKING, May 6.—Fears that Japan is about to strike without warning as she did in the Japanese-Russian war are freely expressed here. Nevertheless, the capital remains quiet. Up to the present there have been no disorders, but serious outbreaks will follow should Japan invade China. The government has suggested to the missionaries that they remain in their homes until the present situation develops. The Japanese legation declines to say whether any further attempt has been made to reopen the negotiations or whether the Japanese ultimatum has been delivered. President Yuan Shi Kai and the cabinet held a long conference today, but nothing was made public. It is understood that while a minority of the cabinet favored granting the Japanese demands, the majority took the position that to do so will simply add to the nation's troubles. If Japan takes control of China by force the government will be in a very difficult position. The best troops in the army are assembled here, but they are not in shape to make any real resistance. They are short of ammunition and every sort of supplies. Japanese troops are reported to have mounted cannon at Tsinan, in Shantung, without any opposition being made by the Chinese troops there. The most significant articles in the Japanese demands on China, never before printed by any western newspaper, are as follows:

Article 1. The Chinese central government shall employ influential Japanese as advisers in political, financial, and military affairs. Article 2. Japanese hospitals, churches, and schools in the interior of China shall be granted the right of ownership. Article 3. Inasmuch as the Japanese government and the Chinese government have had many cases of dispute between Japanese and Chinese police to settle, cases which caused no little misunderstanding, it is for this reason necessary that the police departments of important places in China shall be jointly administered by Japanese and Chinese or that the police departments of these places shall employ numerous Japanese, so that they may at the same time help to plan for the improvement of the Chinese police service.

Article 4. China shall purchase from Japan a fixed amount of munitions of war (say 50 per cent or more of what is needed by the Chinese government) or that there shall be established in China a Sino-Japanese joint workshop arsenal. Japanese technical experts are to be employed and Japanese material to be purchased. Article 5. China agrees to grant to Japan the right of constructing a railway connecting Wanchung with Kinkiang and Nanchang and Hungchow, and another between Nanchang and Chaochow.

PETROGRAD, May 6.—Immense German forces are being moved southward from Cracow. Since Sunday there have been sharp separate engagements at Tarnobrzeg, Gorlice in Galicia, and near Barfild in Hungary. The Russian army has driven the Austrians westward from the right bank of the Nida and a battle involving enormous numbers is now beginning. It is believed that the German government has admitted today, but the war office asserted that three of these had already been checked. The fourth—that in Western Galicia—has precipitated a great battle on the eastern bank of the Duna river. The points where the Russians claim to have checked Austro-German drives are in the Baltic provinces of Kurland and Kovno, over in the Southwestern Poland and in the Stryl region of the Carpathians east of Uzkok Pass.
